Subject: RE: Follow up

Good morning Martin,

When we spoke I promised to keep you informed of our correspondence with Trading Standards on this issue. With that in mind, please find attached a letter which was sent to them this morning outlining the findings of our initial sensory panel, also attached.

Could I ask then when PHE writes to us, you send a side copy to my email please? In line with current government guidance all roles which are able to are currently working from home and so I'm keen that we don't delay any response to you.

With thanks and best wishes,
