

Library and Agricultural project LAP

Sebokeng Community Project

The community participation and Job creation for the city , The Black Organisations Youth Boy aimed to help the city improve educationally and economically by creating more projects in Sedibeng district .

This include

: SA Pharmacy Management System

: Streetlights projects

: Environmental Health and Safety

: Mphatlalatsane sebokeng theater

Our aim is to build the new Library and Agricultural space in vaal sebokeng area, this is located in a particularly isolated area, not only because it is in the Sebokeng Hostel but also because it is surrounded on three sides by depressions which make it dominate the passage in zone 17 and zone 14 land traffic across the space. For the South Africans, it is also important as a Sebokeng to be on the Southern history route to other countries. These factors, along with Sedibeng dominance of the southern African region , highlight the strategic importance of the hostels and why it was a point of conflict during World War .

Reading is thinking.

Right to read.

The BLACK ORGANISATIONS YOUTH BOY believes all people should have access to books. We are an anti-caste people's initiative. We are committed to the work of building the movement for a publicly owned, free library system that is accessible to all. Access cannot be built without reference to the history of excluding people from reading. It is important to critique the normalisation of the lack of libraries in South Africa as a first step toward the argument for creation of a public library system.

We have found that many of our members can read words, but do so very slowly. We've developed ways to help build reading fluency. Several of the practices we used could be easily adapted for use in schools, even ones with poor teacher:student ratios. They are easy to implement for teachers, research-proven, and all it requires is time, books and commitment.

Achieving the Vision

The heart of the agricultural training programme is to develop expert farmers, preparing them to run their farming activities from a business perspective. This is done through training, mentoring and direct work application.

Why Do We Serve?

To invest in the lives of potential Agricultural business entrepreneurs and employees, through training, mentorship and support, which exposes them to all the principles of Godly business and sustainable Agricultural production. This will provide them with a solid entrepreneurial foundation and provide a springboard for their first venture, thus providing them with hope and a future.

How Do We Serve?

The range of programme activities is aimed at the underprivileged or unemployed individuals. We believe that farming is a profession which is really needed in our country so that there will be food security in South Africa.

Training

Provide a foundation for employment in the agricultural sector

Soft skills training

Addressing the poverty mindset

Business basics

Solid Agricultural knowledge

Mentoring

Mentoring entrepreneurs to launch their agricultural business.

Direct mentorship in the development of business plan

Direct mentorship in community development principles

Work application

Provide practical work experience

Awareness of business requirements and opportunities.

Internships/job shadowing in agricultural sector

Business launch and support

Provide input and support to entrepreneurs as they launch their agribusiness.

Facilitation of startup loan for an entrepreneur

Onsite evaluation of an agricultural business plan

Ongoing support of entrepreneur

Increased development through technology

Measuring Outcomes

Through the programme, it is envisioned that farmers will develop a sustainable agricultural business. As a result of their improved work ethic, business and agricultural skills, they should be an economic stimulus in their communities. They will be able to speak with authority and credibility into their neighbours' farming activities and lives.